FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1888.

ROSCOE CONKLING is the Baltimore Herald's nominee for President. Now that Mr. Blaine is out of the way the hopes of candidates and their friends rise mightily.

GEN. SHERIDAN goes the "better to be right than to be President" man several better by declaring that he wouldn't have the office anyway. So the "Sheridan and Shenandoah" war-cry is prematurely choked off.

THE new fisheries treaty with Great Britain is made public. American fishermen are indignant, those at Gloucester, Mass., and elsewhere declaring that their rights have been sacrificed to the interests of Canada.

THE sugar trust is undergoing investigation at the hands of a New York legislative committee. If these late inventions of the adversary of competition are all looked into in every State, legislatures will have their hands full.

THE Gresham boom is gathering strength, at least in Washington, we judge from private letters. The Republicans of the country might easily do worse than take the Indiana statesman, and it is very doubtful if they could do better.

THAT great nightmare of the Democrats, the tariff bill, which the House ways and means committee has been struggling with, was to have been reported to the full committee yesterday. It is said to aim at a reduction of $55,000,000; how near it will shoot is not stated.

THE national Democratic committee met at Washington, Wednesday, to fix the date and place for holding the next national convention. The date, July 3, was fixed without much trouble, but up to adjournment Wednesday night no place had been agreed upon, the last ballot standing: San Francisco 17, Chicago 15, St. Louis 14, Cincinnati 1.

WE wish to call the attention of our readers to the notice, in another column, of the secretary of the county agricultural society. It seems to be necessary, in order to the maintenance of a county fair in Middlebury, that a stock company should be formed for the purpose. Such an organization should have been effected years ago, but it is not too late now.
Few if any of the counties of this State, or of any State, can produce better stock or better crops than this, and we ought to have every year a fair equal to any in the country. The way to do this is to get up just such a company as is proposed. Then the people as a whole will be interested and will do their share. It is to be hoped that there will be present at next Wednesday's meeting a full representation of the county.

AN EMINENT SPECIALIST.

Speaking of President Cleveland's free-trade policy, Chauncey M. Depew said in his magnificent oration at the Washington memorial exercises at Chicago, Wednesday:

The President says to the combined forces of Capital and Labor, flushed with past successes and eager for the conquest of the world, "Halt; you are on the wrong road." Business is built upon stability of statutes. Fluctuations in the law must not be a factor in the calculations of commerce. It is fortunate for the future of the country that the President has taken a position so radical and defiant that discussion and decision are imperative. If the result is, as I think it will and ought to be, the defeat of the President and of his party, he will take his place among the few eminent specialists and experimentalists who have died in demonstrating that the gun was not loaded.

HOW IT WORKS.

The first question a Vermonter who thinks of going into the third-party movement should ask himself is, as it seems to us, What will be the effects, locally, of this agitation? The experience of Maine, another prohibitory State, ought to have weight. But Dr. Burrage of Zion's Advocate, who lives in Portland, writes: "The greatest harm that has come to prohibition in Maine has come from carrying it into party po-itics. For in most part this has been avoided hitherto, and the temperance men of both parties have been able to work together. But there is a tendency now to make a party cry of prohibition, and this, I believe, unless checked, will in the end prove an irreparable injury to a cause which should have the support of every live friend of temperance."

The Independent, which is strong for prohibition but does not go in for the third-party variety of it, deprecates the divisions among temperance men which are the inevitable result of the movement, and adds: "This plan of dividing prohibitionists amounts simply to a proposition to restore the saloons. A celebrated novel puts into the mouth of one of its characters, a shrewd old Scotchwoman, this exclamation: 'Oh, Lord, how little sense it does take to make a minister.'" Some such remark as this the old lady would be sure to make if she were a witness of the attacks of certain political prohibitionists on prohibition in Maine, Georgia and elsewhere."

CURRENT OPINION.

THE WINDHAM COUNTY KEG.

Brother Swain's reply to the St. John's-bury querist indicates that he has his hand over the bung of the Windham county gubernatorial keg; but it may prove fuller than he can hold, as the process of fermentation goes on; or he may be harrassed beyond his ability to protect both, should the bovine Hooker get after his coat-tails.—Ludlow Tribune.

NOTHING BUT RUIN.

If, then, the effect of the removal of the 10 per cent. ad valorem duty has been to make sheep industry unprofitable and to diminish the grand aggregate of the flocks, what result can be predicted if the entire duty is abolished? Nothing but utter and irretrievable ruin to a branch of industry that ranks among the largest and most general of the country. The demand of wool growers that the tariff as it existed March 3, 1883, be restored, is just and reasonable.—Rural Vermonter.

ALL BROKE UP.

They say that Bradley Smalley is "all broke up." By Mr. Blaine's letter. Smalley was the one active, efficient man in managing Cleveland's campaign four years ago, and he calculated on a walk-over for his chief this year with Blaine as his opponent. But now the situation is all changed, and what to depend upon is something that no Democrat can find out.—Brattleboro Phoenix.

PERSONAL.

Luther L. Durant, Esq., a well-known Montpelier lawyer, died the 16th of heart disease.

These Orwell ladies have gone South to spend the rest of the winter: Mrs. E.
M. Wright, Mrs. D. W. Clark, Mrs. E.
M. Bottom and Mrs. Amanda Warren.

Hon. D. C. Linsley, formerly of Middlebury and afterwards of Burlington and Ottawa, sailed from New York Saturday for an extended trip through Europe.

Mr. George Gregory Smith of St.
Albans, son of ex-Gov. Smith, and Miss Frances Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. John V. Lewis of Boston, were married in that city on Feb. 14.

THE PROPOSED STATE BOARD OF TRADE.

The State Creamery association held a meeting at Burlington last Saturday to take action respecting the formation of a State board of trade for the sale of butter and cheese. An adjourned meeting to complete the organization will be held at the Van Ness House, Burlington, on Tuesday next, the 28th. Then it will be decided where the exchange shall be, both St. Albans and Burlington wanting it. It is also desired to include in the organization the maple sugar and honey producers of the State. Exchanges of this character have been in operation at Elgin, Ill., Canton and Ogdensburg, N.
Y., and elsewhere for some years, and have proved of the greatest benefit to producers. As only members of the exchange will be allowed to sell through it, all who are interested in the scheme should attend the Burlington meeting.

THE DEATH OF MR. HILLER.

Prof. H. M. Seely and Mrs. M. H. Eddy were suddenly summoned to Syracuse, N. Y., late Thursday afternoon of last week, by a telegram announcing that their sister's husband, Mr. D. T. Hiller, had been killed in a railway accident.
Mr. Hiller was a commercial traveler.
Thursday afternoon he was riding in the rear car of a train on the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg road. When near Canton his train stopped, on account of a hot box or something of the kind, and while standing there, on a curve, a freight train following ran into it. The other occupants of the car saw the danger and escaped by jumping. Mr. Hiller, it is supposed, attempted to get out of the car by the front door and had just reached the platform when the crash came. He was found lying beside the track with his skull crushed in. The surmise is that he was thrown violently against the baggage car.

The remains were taken to his home in Syracuse. The Standard of that city says: "Mr. Hiller was for many years a leading dealer in boots and shoes at Sherburne, Chenango county. Becoming dissatisfied with his business prospects there he removed his wife and daughter to Middlebury, Vt. He then began traveling for boot and shoe manufacturers, and in the line of his duties made acquaintances and friends in all parts of the United States. Some six months ago, in order to afford his daughter the advantages of a course in Syracuse university, he removed his family to this city. For some time he has been representing Hale, Baker & Bowman, shoe manufacturers of Syracuse. Mr. Hiller was in religion a Methodist, in society and in business a gentleman always. His life corresponded with his professions. He lent dignity to his trade and honor to the term commercial traveler. Where he has lived no man was held in higher regard, and where his occupation led him he made friends, to whom the announcement of his death will come like a cruel blow.
Mr. Hiller was a Free Mason, being a member of Norwich commandery, K. T." The burial was at Oakwood cemetery, Syracuse, on Sunday afternoon. A large gathering of friends from central New York, either associated in business or connected by relationship, were present at the funeral services. These were conducted by the Rev. Mr. McNulty, Mr.
Hiller's former Sherburne pastor, assisted by the resident pastors and by an escort of Knights Templar, who took part in the impressive ceremonies.

Mr. Hiller was known to a few in Middlebury, where he came quite often during the time Mrs. Hiller and their daughter, Miss Grace, resided at Prof. Seely's; his family have many friends here who will regret to hear of the great calamity that has befallen them. Miss Grace, it will be remembered, graduated at the high school here last summer. Prof.
Seely has returned home, but Mrs. Eddy is still with her sister at Syracuse.

"Bub," said the agent, as a little boy opened the door, "is your ma in?" Yes; she's in the kitchen trying to fix the stove; it won't bake. Who shall I say wants to see her?" "Tell her it's the new minister, who will call again."—
